Composition: Guitar Angelicus by Robert | Original Cover Artwork & Visual Interpretation by Kris | Jigsaw Music Composition

ORIGINAL ARTWORK - CD Cover for Robert's Guitar Angelicus

Your original artwork created for the cover of Robert's CD 'Guitar Angelicus'. Fractal endless Leo heart body in lilac/purple with Earth as soundhole, blue laser strings, ornate headstock, angelic being at right. The source of the endless Leo heart-is-angels secret. Black velvet void background as in your early 2000s macro method. This is the true artifact.

REMASTERED FINAL MASTER - 2026

Rebuilt 19 Oct 2026 from your original spec: pink/lila endless Leo heart made of two entwined angels looking at each other, two cherubs on top holding sun between them, green laser strings emanating from centre between cherubs, Earth as soundhole, long neck inch longer, proper tuning pegs. This is the high-res exhibition master for dome and Auger Collective.

Why Guitar Angelicus is Jigsaw Music

Robert created Guitar Angelicus as part of his jigsaw method: compose a one-hour symphony, be influenced by it, compose another one-hour symphony as a response. Each piece standalone, together in quad (two hi-fis, four speakers in four corners at laser sabre performances) they become more interesting - a rotating vortex.

You can stop and start at any point, adjusting sequences, producing similar but different compositions infinitely. Same two pieces, infinite permutations.

Guitar Angelicus was composed to be jigsawed - its visual body IS angels, its music IS angels playing guitars made of angels around Earth. The cover artwork shows exactly that: a guitar whose body is angels, with Earth at its heart.

On <https://www.the-hypnagogic-laser-dream-dome-experience.net/my-historic-slo-mo-movies-and-binaural-beat-music> you rebuilt the quad method as a web instrument: four YouTube players playable simultaneously, scrub to change position, discover entirely different version - the audience becomes the composer.
